

Performance photographs of Dante's Sim Sala Bim revue

Dante opened in London at the Alhambra Theatre in August 1936. He remained in Great Britain touring the country until June 1939. These photographs were found in the Davenport Collection but there was no record of where, when, or by whom this performance was photographed. The name of the illusion being performed has been added, where it is known.

The collection also contains some film of the show at the Alhambra taken by the Davenport family. (To find it, search N3795 on the Davenport Collection website.) It may well be that the photographs shown here were also taken at an Alhambra performance, but there is no evidence for this.

Everything Out of the Hat

Cabaret de la Mort

Black and White

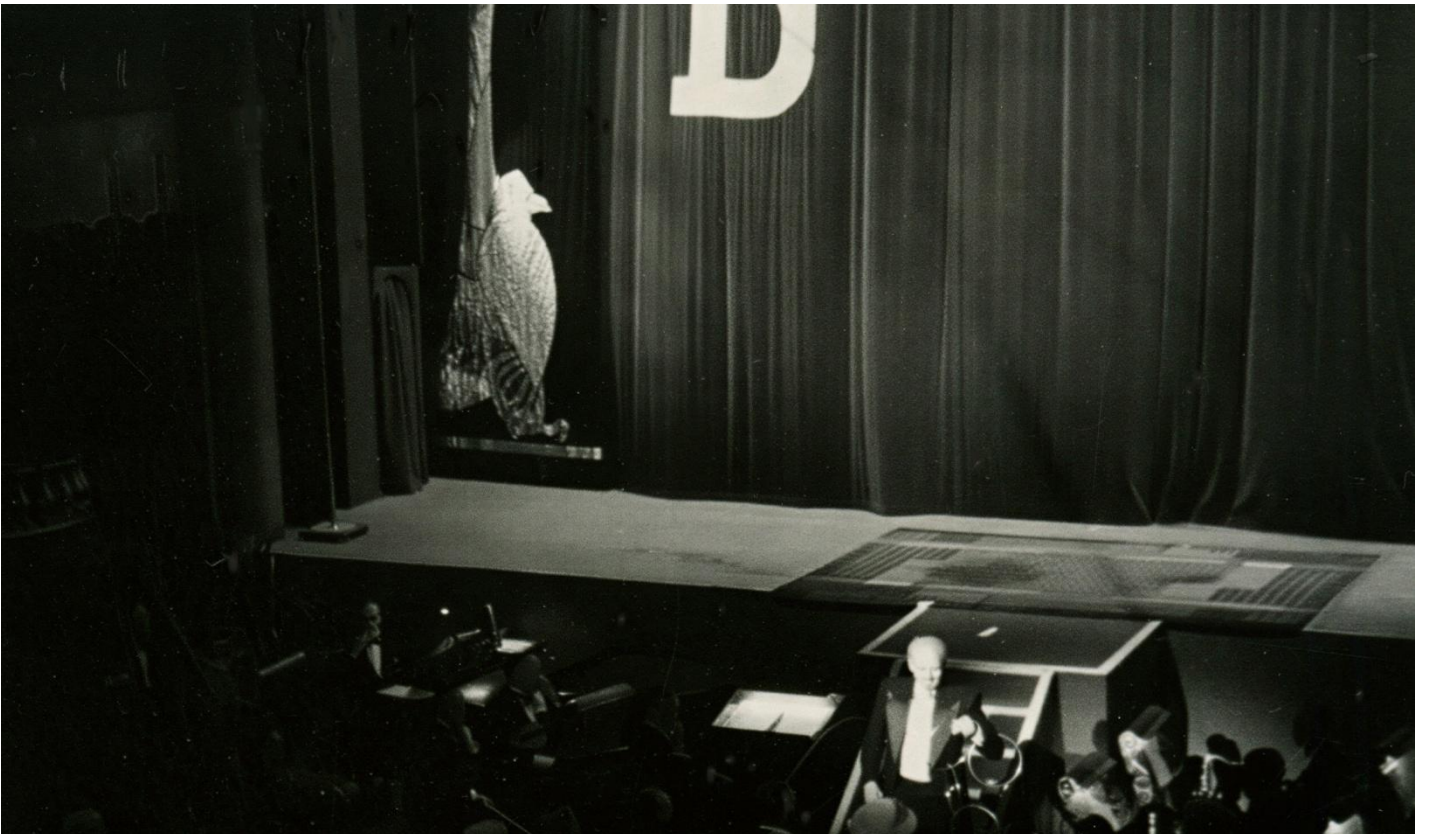

Black and White

A Rag, a Bone and a Hank of Hair

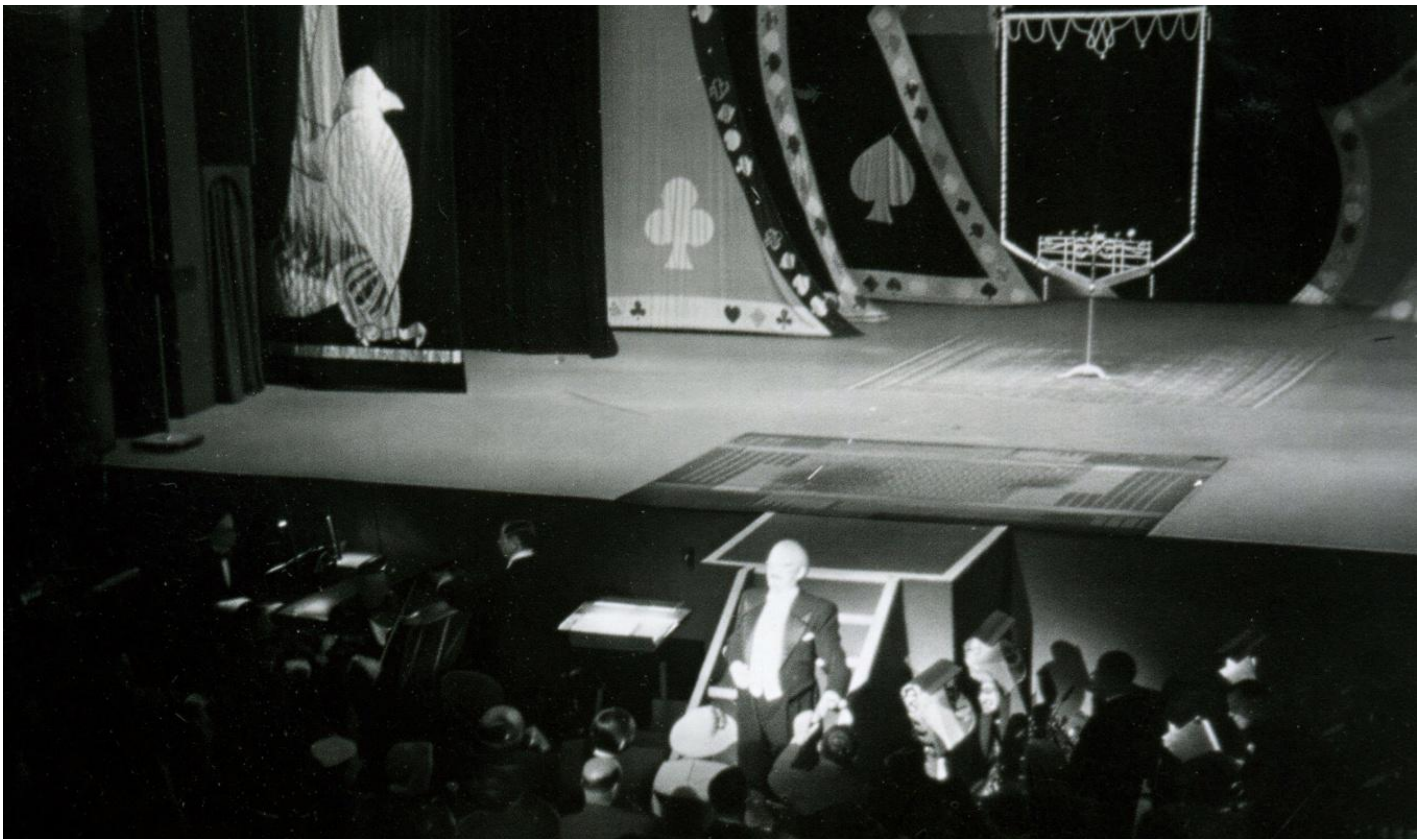

Linking Rings

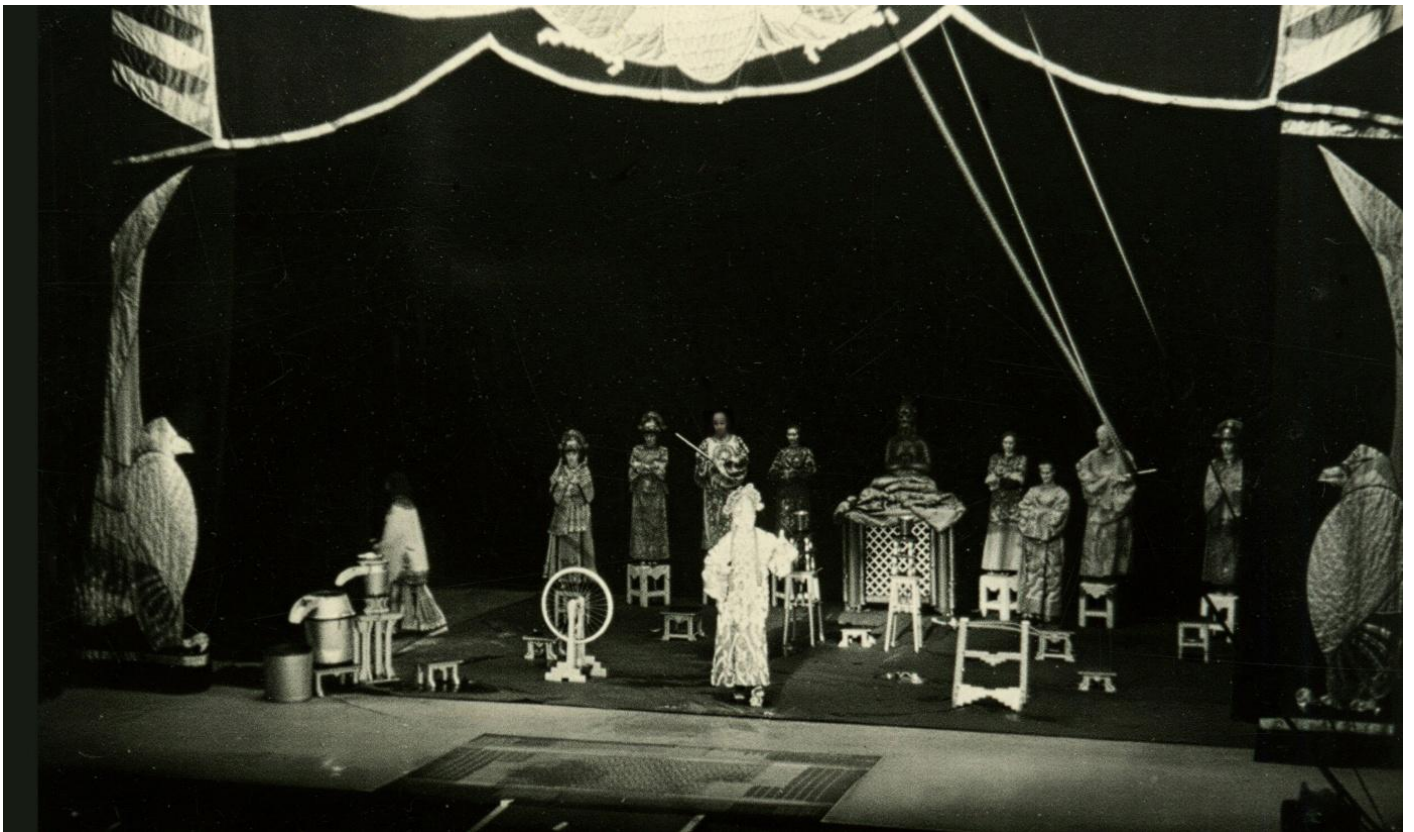

Inexhaustible Beer Barrel

Fountania

Fountania

Fountainia

Fountania

Copyright © 2026 Davenport Collection

Ref. N3787